

Judge Sliener's Brother to Be Ordained
A number of friends of Judge George E. Sliener, of the City Hall Police Court, have received word from the authorities of the pasthood of his brother, Rev. William Martin Sliener, M. A., at 10 o'clock next Wednesday morning in Trinity Church, Postoria, Ohio.

The minister is a younger brother of the judge, being only 38 years old. He has been a student at a prominent theological seminary in Ohio for a number of years, and is a well acquainted man in the city.

RECONSIGNMENT CHARGES.

Special Commissioner Heard Testimony for Eight Hours Yesterday.
Charges of discrimination in freight reconsignment charges at East St. Louis were considered yesterday by the Illinois Railroad and Warehouse Commission, which held a hearing at the Merchants Exchange on the subject.
Evidence was taken for eight hours, closing at 4 o'clock. The commission is expected to decide in a few days from the evidence presented whether the railroads are entitled to the extra charge of $2, now imposed for reconsignment.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

In Store for Those Who Doubt.
When you read that a sufferer of many years standing has been completely restored to health by using Smith's Cure-all, you are inclined to doubt the statement, and, in fact, have no belief in it whatever. The reason for this is that so much is claimed for the Cure-all it is impossible for anyone to believe it; if the advertiser confined his claims to the curing of one disease, as do the proprietors of Pyramid Pile Cure, readers would have much more faith in published testimonials. Those familiar with this great remedy know that testimonials as to its merit may be relied upon implicitly, also that the cures brought about by its use are little short of marvelous. The genuineness of the testimonial here given is vouched for and is but one of thousands received.
"I had a friend who had used one box of 50-cent Pyramid Pile Cure that entirely cured him, and the good effect on her, and thought I would try it, as I had got so I could not sit down without extreme pain and getting up was just as bad; the first box nearly cured me; I got the second box, and have had no trouble since. Pyramid Pile Cure does all that it claims to do, and I never miss an opportunity to tell its merits. I speak from observation and personal benefit. Two boxes cured me over a year ago, and no return of the trouble since." Mrs. M. Mooney, 6000 Sangamon St., Chicago, Ill.
Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, or will be mailed to any address upon receipt of price by Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich. Write this firm for their book describing the cause and cure of piles.

An Ideal Woman's Medicine.

So says Mrs. Josie Irwin, of 325 So. College St., Nashville, Tenn., of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Never in the history of medicine has the demand for one particular remedy for female diseases equalled that attained by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never during the lifetime of this wonderful medicine has the demand for it been so great as it is to-day.
From the Atlantic to the Pacific, and throughout the length and breadth of this great continent come the glad tidings of woman's sufferings relieved by it, and thousands upon thousands of letters are pouring in from grateful women saying that it will and positively does cure the worst forms of female complaints.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all women who are puzzled about their health to write her at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Such correspondence is seen by women only, and no charge is made.

WIRE OPERATORS WILL NOT SETTLE

Decide to Leave Their Case to Arbitrators.

VICTORY FOR INDEPENDENTS

WON BIG BARONS WITH PROTEST AGAINST PRIVATE AGREEMENT.

After Conference They Sent Message Declining to Meet Mitchell, Which, Miners' Friends Aver, Was Breach of Their Word.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The big coal operators have ended the attempt to settle the anthracite strike independently of the arbitration commission.
Friends of the miners boldly accuse the presidents of going back on their word.
The operators last night sent this reply to a request to meet President Mitchell and conclude negotiations.
"The conditions are such that no substantial progress toward an adjustment can be made by the suggested meeting. The general judgment of the operators is that they will be unable to go on with the hearing."
This action brings the whole matter again before the coal strike commission, which adjourned last Saturday to Dec. 3, in order to permit negotiations which had been begun at Scranton for a private settlement to reach a conclusion.
The president of the operators was reached after a conference in this city with representatives of about twenty-five independent mine owners who protested against the settlement outside of the commission because they were not consulted.
These independent operators were entertained at luncheon by President Baer in the Jersey Central building, the other coal road presidents being present.

Remarkable Feature of the Conference.

The independent operators deprecated any attempt at a settlement between John Mitchell, representing the miners, on the one hand, and the big operators on the other during the adjustment by the commission, and insisted that the only proper course now to pursue was to have all the matters now in dispute brought before the commission and be decided by it.

Probably the most remarkable feature of the conference was that in less than two hours these 25 men, whose combined output of coal does not exceed 15 per cent of the total amount mined, brought to an uncompromising railroad presidents of this city around to their way of thinking, whereupon a unanimous vote of both classes of operators, a dispatch was sent to Washington declining to meet Mr. Mitchell and his associates in Washington on Friday morning as had been suggested.

Just who sent the operators the invitation to go to Washington was not disclosed, nor was the name of the person to whom the operators addressed their answer made public.
The language of that answer, however, was unequivocal.

Mr. Mitchell, when shown the dispatch from New York telling of the action of the operators, simply smiled and said that he had not asked for the conference, but that after he saw it he would be glad to meet him to meet the operators he said it would.

Mr. Darrow and Mr. Lloyd, however, were outspoken regarding the action of the operators. Mr. Darrow said it was "now up to the operators," and that he would return at once to Scranton, and on Tuesday next would appear before the commission ready to go on with the hearing.

Once Assented to Propositions.

Mr. Lloyd said that Friday's conference had been suggested in order to adjust some matters on which there was still some disagreement.
"Yet," said Mr. Lloyd, "the same men who only last week wired the commission their assent to the general provisions of the tentative agreement, and upon the strength of which the commission adjourned for a week in order to give the parties time to get together, now go completely back on their word and call it all off."

The independent operators gave the following reasons against the proposed settlement.
1. "I believe that such a settlement at this time and upon the basis suggested would forever establish the power and perpetuate the injustice perpetrated by the United Mine Workers."
2. "That such settlement would be, in the eyes of the public, a confession that we have been guilty of all the offenses charged upon us by the public."
3. "That we have and believe that you have made a perfect and complete defense to the allegations made by the complainants before the commission that any money award the commission would render would be far less than the amount we understand that it is proposed to concede, especially to miners and their laborers."

Have Faith in the Commission.

4. "That aside from any money consideration this commission, composed, as we believe, of men that are absolutely fair, unbiased and of unusual experience and good judgment in their findings, will make such declaration as will for many years put a ban upon unlawful practices, oppression of nonunion men, unjustifiable demands and other grievances that we have been suffering under since 1900."
5. "That we have and believe that you have made a perfect and complete defense to the allegations made by the complainants before the commission that any money award the commission would render would be far less than the amount we understand that it is proposed to concede, especially to miners and their laborers."

The hearings before the anthracite coal strike commission present the first time since the strike began before the general public, who are really an important third party, since abstracts at least of these proceedings are published all over the United States, and it is a duty that we owe to ourselves as well as to them to prove that the continued and repeated charges of injustice, barbarity and extortion are absolutely unfounded and all of which the individual operators at least propose to do.

The case, as presented already, shows such weakness that we believe they were almost disheartened when these suggestions for a compromise were made. We believe that any surrender on our part, which would be practically what this compromise would amount to, would be by far the most serious mistake ever made in the anthracite coal business.

It is said that J. Pierpont Morgan, who is reported to be behind the plan to settle outside the strike commission, is greatly disappointed. He had hoped to take the credit of a settlement from Roosevelt and at the same time avoid risking results to an uncertain tribunal.

SANTIAGO SOCIETY REUNION.

Gen. Shafter Appoints Committee to Arrange for It.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Major-General William R. Shafter, who commanded the American troops at Santiago and is national president of the Society of Santiago, who was organized to commemorate that contest, has appointed a committee to arrange for the society's first reunion. It is suggested that it be held July 17, 1921, the fifth anniversary of Gen. Shafter's death.

MEMBERS OF THIS FIRE COMPANY FACE DEATH EVERY DAY

No. 6 Has the Downtown District Where Frail Old Buildings Are as Common as Skyscrapers.

Death and destruction are part of the daily life of the firemen of Hook and Ladder Company No. 6, located near Third street and Washington avenue. They respond to at least one fire alarm each day, sometimes to three alarms. They are first to arrive at many fires, and they endure the danger and peril which are part of a fireman's life.
Firemen say that No. 6 risk danger more than any company in the city because of their location. Their district, from Cass to Chouteau avenues, the levee to Twelfth street, comprises old St. Louis. Some of the buildings are frail and combustible.

Age has disintegrated the masonry. Fire calls for a collapse. The houses are part of old St. Louis, filled with the commodities of New St. Louis, oil, powder, sometimes gasoline, again sacks of wool, peanuts, leather, articles which make a smoke which costs men their lives.
A hot fire started in Bishop & Spear's peanut warehouse in the commission district. No. 6 company was summoned to the fire. They raised ladders and dashed into the thick smoke. Without warning the walls of the building collapsed.
Capt. Chris Hoell and Frank Donnell, buried under tons of peanut bags, were rescued. Jake Feilmen, injured, was rescued from the building, but later died.
In the Alce fire Capt. Owney Helms of No. 6 was overcome by smoke and died a month later, as the result of his exertions.
To tell the full story of No. 6's deeds one must write the details of every fire which has occurred in the business district since May 4, 1885, when the company was organized.

They have figured prominently in all the downtown fires. Danger, daring and No. 6 are companions.
Fires destroyed the Luykes Grocery, at Sixth and Franklin avenue, Nov. 25, 1901. Company 6 raised their ladder shortly after the alarm came in. A cry applied the firemen that several persons were trapped on the third story of the building.
Capt. Adolph Hartman went up the ladder and found Misses Ferguson and Randall, and Julius Rau and John A. Well at the window, half suffocated with smoke. He carried one of the women down after, and a member of his company carried the other girl. The men clambered after, and Company 6 left the fire with a record of having saved four lives.
At the Lindell Hotel fire Company 6 risked death to save their truck from falling. They saved the machine, and a moment later tons of brick overpowered the spot where the machine had been stationed.

ST. LOUIS WOMEN INVADE KANSAS CITY

LED BY MRS. CALKINS, TO STOP THE PROPOSED BULL FIGHT.

WORRYING CHIEF OF POLICE

After a Short Interview the Officer Dodged Into Inner Office and Locked the Door.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 28.—Mrs. Mary Calkins, armed with handbills quoting passages from Missouri statutes prohibiting bull fighting, has swooped down upon Kansas City and the chief of police.
"I am president of the Golden Chain Humane Society," announced Mrs. Calkins in the presence of the chief, who was sitting at his desk.
"I am here to keep Kansas City from making a spectacle of itself and to stop a brutal exhibition of mistaken sport."
"My dear madam," said the chief, "St. Louis can well afford to let Kansas City take care of itself, besides, the prosecuting attorney says there is no law to reach bull fighting."

When the prosecuting attorney does not know his business," retorted Mrs. Calkins. "What under the sun is 'bull fighting' if not worrying and teasing and angling? That is the way the dictionaries define the term, and Mrs. Calkins produced her small handbill.
"Look at this, will you?" Here she pointed to an extract from the Missouri statutes forbidding bull baiting and providing a punishment for persons encouraging or being present at such an exhibition.
Chief Hayes held up both hands. "My dear madam, I have been told that there are no cruel features attached to the show. The bander,"
"Don't tell me about the banderillo," Mrs. Calkins interrupted. "I know all about them."
"Did you ever see a real bull fight?" asked the reporter very meekly.
"No," replied Mrs. Calkins, "I never did, and I am kind of it. But I have read descriptions of them, and I know all about them."

"There will be some more good women from St. Louis here to help me today, and you can rest assured the bull fight will not take place."
Mrs. Calkins was very angry. The chief saw what was coming and decided he did not want to be denounced by a woman. He excused himself and hurried to the surgeon's room, where he locked the door.

Mrs. Calkins waited 15 minutes and then stepping to the door said:
"Tell the chief I'll be back again." The president of the Golden Chain then retired to await reinforcements.

CHAS. F. JOY A CANDIDATE

Announces He Would Accept Postmastership If It Were Offered to Him.

Congressman Charles F. Joy has at last announced that while he is not seeking the position, should the President appoint him postmaster at St. Louis he will accept the office. Should the tender of the appointment fail to materialize, Mr. Joy will cross the ocean with his wife in search of a complete rest before he resumes business in any form.

Representative Joy asserts that he does not want the office, but that his friends have urged him to take it, and he is willing to waive his own desires for the benefit of his party. Should he receive the appointment, he states, he will abandon the proposed ocean voyage and immediately assume the duties of the postmaster.

It is rumored that there is to be a change in the administration of the post-office here, and a commission has been secretly investigating charges against Postmaster Baumhoff for the last few weeks. What evidence the members collected is not known, except to them, but the report is current that there will be a new postmaster after the present term of Mr. Baumhoff expires.

B. P. I. HOLDS UP PAYROLL

Investigates Salary of Negro Janitor in Office of Building Commissioner Longfellow.

One negro janitor, drawing $80 a month from the city, has caused the entire force of employees of Building Commissioner C. P. Longfellow to be without ready money for the purchase of Thanksgiving turkeys.
Until Mr. Longfellow satisfies President Phillips of the board of public improvements that the name of A. J. Howell should be on the payroll of the building department none of the employees of the department will receive his October salary.

The payroll is now detained in the office of the president of the board.
In Mr. Phillips' office it is stated that Howell, who is a negro janitor, has not been actually employed since Sept. 4, and that another negro, whose name has not been placed on the payroll, has been working in the building commissioner's office instead.

Desultory warfare has been going on for several months between the office of the president of the board and that of the building commissioner. The work on the new City Hospital has frequently been the cause of contention between the two departments. At another time Mr. Longfellow charged that contracts were being let by the board by the official by the building commissioner has thus far refused to explain the presence of the negro's name on the payroll further than to say that Howell was formally discharged only last Monday, and that his name should therefore be on the October and November payrolls.

BILL FOR CREATION OF JUVENILE COURTS.

The Missouri Society of Charities and the St. Louis Bar Association, working together, have drafted a bill to be presented at the next session of the Missouri legislature, for the creation of a juvenile court, to try cases of children under 18 years of age. Under this law the bad old method of classing mere children as criminals and herding them with hardened lawbreakers will cease. The youthful lawbreakers or disorderly individuals will be known simply as offenders, and the object will be to reform, rather than punish them. There will be a corps of probationary officers, whose duty it will be to watch over the children who have been brought before the court, so that they may be kept from evil associations and encouraged to live an orderly life. This extra-parental care and attention is to continue, where needed, until the children are of age.

If all parents were able and willing to care for their children, there would be no need of such courts. But with conditions as they are, well conducted juvenile courts should be able to save many children from becoming criminals.

Thanks are due to Judge R. S. Tutthill of Chicago, who has forwarded the movement by describing the workings and results of the juvenile court in that city, over which he presides.

The Post-Dispatch was the original champion of the juvenile court for St. Louis. It is gratified that the people have adopted the idea, which is sure to benefit the community in many ways.

It might be necessary to lobby a "nonpartisan" tariff commission.

A GOOD ROADS OBJECT LESSON.

The trip of Messrs. Turner, Whitman and Webb from St. Louis to Chicago in an automobile is a striking object lesson for the good roads movement.

Starting Thursday morning, Nov. 20, in a big 16-horse power machine, well equipped in every way, the automobilists expected to make the trip of 275 miles in 36 hours.

But aside from traveling out of their course because of wrong guidance, the automobilists found the roads in such a terrible condition that they were compelled to walk much of the way. Instead of a 36-hour pleasure trip, they found it a laborious, painful and disheartening journey of five days. Their powerful machine was bogged in the sticky mud repeatedly, tires were pulled off, and they suffered every mishap due to bad roads, short of an actual breakdown.

This was in Illinois. But the experience would hardly have been any better in Missouri. Just heavy mud might have been encountered, but the machine would have to tackle roads of which the ancient Babylonians and Romans would have been ashamed. Jutting rocks, bottomless ruts, huge gullies, bridgeless streams and many other obstacles would have made the journey excessively difficult.

If a vehicle having a power equal to 16 horses, and with rubber tires and ball bearings, is thus hampered by bad roads, what a gigantic drawback such roads must be to the ordinary wagon and buggy. The improvement of the state's roadways would add millions of dollars to its resources. It would induce immigration and make the country more prosperous than is possible under present conditions.

When Secretary Root declares that drunkenness in the army is increasing, does he realize that he is talking about the American soldier?

PUNISH THE FAKERS.

The Philadelphia American does a great public service by prosecuting a "fakery" who painted off a medal on the editor.

Readers of newspapers do not appreciate the fact that they are victimized by men who pretend to have news to tell but which afterwards turns out to be false—sometimes, as in this case of the American—libelous.

These unscrupulous scoundrels operate singly and in groups. They come with what appear to be irreproachable credentials and offer what, if true, is a very important piece of news. All being clear on the surface, the deception works, and a few hours later the editor learns the truth forcibly expressed by the persons unpleasantly affected.

The reader may remember that in 1900 the Philadelphia Times, a most careful newspaper, was victimized outrageously. During the campaign, late at night, a man walked into the office with an interview with ex-President Cleveland. It was sensational in the extreme and would undoubtedly have had great influence on the result of the canvass. The fellow claimed to have just come from the ex-President's home in Princeton. He exhibited recommendations from men of eminence, some of which turned out to be genuine. But the interview was the purest concoction of the faker's own brain.

Newspapers want fresh, important news if it is true. News that is not true is no news at all, but it is not strange that adventurers sometimes practice deception.

There is one way to stop the fraud. This is to make an example of the offender by giving him the butt end of the law.

The President did not succeed in his Mississippi bear hunt, but just look at the second crop of potatoes in Illinois. Under no administration have there been greater crops than Mr. Roosevelt, by his energy and foresight, has produced for us this year.

OUR JUDGES WILL RULE US.

Judge Donovan of Detroit not only set C. C. Miles free from his matrimonial bonds, but defined his position in society. He decided that Mr. Miles was less capable of conducting a business college which had founded than his wife, and also gave him second place in the family circle by awarding the college to the wife and directing that she pay Mr. Miles $3000 alimony at the rate of $100 a year.

With such a wife on his hands, Mr. Miles probably ought to have been glad to save anything out of the wreck, but why should he be humiliated by receiving it at the hands of his wife? What right has a judge to declare that any man is not as good a business manager as his wife? What right has any judge to define any man's social status, as long as he has not been convicted of a crime?

What dictum was ever more tyrannical? After a while our circuit judges will be regulating the amount of our salaries, dictating how much we shall spend daily, arranging our bills-of-fare, prescribing our religion, compelling us to read or to leave alone certain books and otherwise supervising our personal affairs. When we arise in the morning we will not be able to turn a wheel until we receive printed instructions from our eminent judges, who may divorce us from our wives without a moment's warning if we fail to look pleasant. The judiciary will become our social, religious, educational and sartorial arbiters, and there will be nothing doing until they shall have said the word, if the plan of Judge Donovan is to be put into general use.

Circuit Attorney Folk is quoted by the Kansas City Journal as saying with regard to corruption in this state: "I have absolute proof of boodling, and it has been going on for years. The state is a ring is full of corruption. There is boodling going on all the time." If Mr. Folk has absolute proof of boodling he should make it public. Out with it, Mr. Folk; let us have the facts.

THE IRISH STRUGGLE.

The struggle of the people of Ireland for the right to live and prosper on their own soil and has reached an acute stage. Landlordism, backed by all the wealth and prestige of aristocratic power, is making a final stand for existence.

In no country in the world has such a system of land tenure obtained as in Ireland. The vast majority of the occupying proprietors are tenants-at-will, and any improvement in their holdings is invariably followed by a raise in the rent.

No amount of labor or industry could hope to successfully cope against such a system—where the fruits of man's labor was taxed—and the result was that hundreds and thousands were evicted and were forced to emigrate.

This system of landlord oppression has been the direct cause of the large population of Irish birth and descent that is found in this country today.

Mr. Gladstone gave this system a serious setback in 1881, but the principle of dual ownership still remained, and evictions, though on a diminished degree, continued as before.

To end this condition of affairs an organization, called the United Irish League, was started a few years ago.

Its main object is the compulsory purchase by the state of the landlord's interest in the soil, and erecting in its stead a peasant proprietary on terms equitable to all concerned.

Back of it all, however, is the demand for a national legislature, which is the sine qua non of Irish demands.

To enlist support for the United Irish League in its crusade against landlordism—especially among men of the Irish race in this country—Michael Davitt, and John Dillon are here as envoys of the Irish Parliamentary Party.

No better men could have been sent. Mr. Davitt spent long years in English dungeons for the cause of Irish liberty, was for two terms a member of the House of Commons, from which he resigned as a protest against the Boer war.

Those who go to the Coliseum Thursday evening will have an opportunity of hearing the Irish cause discussed by an accomplished and distinguished Irishman, who has been the master mind and leading spirit of Irish national movements for nearly a quarter of a century.

The Maine World's Fair commissioners will ask the state legislature to appropriate $100,000 for an exhibit. This looks like a large sum for a state three-fourths of which is covered with forests, but Maine has a great deal to show. Moreover, Maine is a state that can lobster.

The bold assertion of Congressman Cooper of Wisconsin that some of the high tariff schedules might be lower without injury to any business interest and undoubtedly with advantage to exporters is amazing. It is altogether contrary to the high tariff theory.

The company that is to lay the trans-Pacific cable is prohibited from forming an alliance with any other company looking to a monopoly of the cable business in the Pacific. Prevention of monopoly is vastly better than having to fight it after it has a hold.

It is noted that the great prosperity of the railroads cannot be due to protection, as they have none, their cost even being greatly increased by the high tariff. The existing free trade between the states will always make some prosperity for railroads.

The report by the commissioner of Indian affairs that cutting off rations and giving them employment have made the red men willing workers, who are even careful of their earnings, rather than the old idea that the Indian is lazy and useless.

It is alleged that there is to be a great deal of insurance lobbying at the coming session of the legislature. It is quite important to the dominant party in the state that there shall be no unfair legislation by the newly elected body.

As we pay the Sultan of Sulu for being good, and keep up his dream, Gen. Sully's suggestion that we also bribe the Sultan of Jol seems logical if not strictly moral. Bribery may be less an evil than killing and burning.

EX-GOV. STONE AS A LEGISLATIVE AGENT

In pursuance of its duty as an independent newspaper, cherishing the honor and welfare of Missouri, the Post-Dispatch undertakes to give full information concerning the record and public character of the candidates before the State Legislature for the office of United States Senator.

It has been charged repeatedly in the press and on the platform that former Gov. William J. Stone, the leading Democratic candidate, has acted as the paid legislative agent of persons and corporations seeking special favors from the State Legislature. The charge is also made that as a paid attorney of persons or corporations he has tried to influence the action of the officers of the state administration in matters affecting the public welfare.

Are these charges justified? What are the facts? Ex-Gov. Stone first appeared in the lobby of the Missouri Legislature during the session of 1899, when he went to Jefferson City and held frequent conferences with senators, representatives and others who were powerful in directing legislation. He worked independently of the regular lobby, which was directed by John H. Carroll and Col. William H. Phelps. Part of the hostility of Col. Phelps to Ex-Gov. Stone is said to be due to a clash of their interests in the lobby.

The first measure which Stone opposed was the beer tax bill. The purpose of this bill was to levy a tax on beer to raise needed revenue for the state. As the legislative attorney of the brewers, Ex-Gov. Stone opposed the bill and button-holed many legislators on the subject. His argument was that an additional tax placed on beer would discourage and seriously affect one of the greatest industries of the state.

Despite the ex-governor's efforts and powerful influence the bill was passed and the tax is now yielding the state an annual revenue of $300,000.

Another measure which was opposed by Ex-Gov. Stone at that session of the Legislature was the bill providing that all foreign surety companies doing business in Missouri should make a deposit of $200,000 with the superintendent of insurance to indemnify their customers against loss.

Through the efforts and influence of the ex-governor the bill was defeated. A third measure affecting rich and powerful corporations against which Stone turned his legislative batteries, was a bill similar to that previously mentioned, to compel all foreign corporations to procure a license before attempting to do business in this state.

Through the insistent demand of the insurance department the bill, which had been "held up" in committee, was finally reported and passed.

During this session of the Legislature, when Ex-Gov. Stone made his debut as a paid lobbyist, the scandalous activity of the lobby was at its height and caused indignation throughout the state.

JUST A MINUTE WITH THE POST-DISPATCH POET AND PHILOSOPHER

WASHING MONEY.

Who wants a good and steady job?
At washing bills in Washington?
Now, wouldn't it make your pulses throb
If you had such a wealthy job?
No need to beg or plead or rob.
If you had such a lovely one!
What mortal would refuse a job?
At washing bills in Washington?

Had I a job so rich and grand,
I would not mind a little dun,
Nor from a bill collector run.
Nor fear them, though on every hand
Men seeking wealth should grimly stand.
I'd bid defiance to the band,
Could I but daily fondle money.
And wash a ton in Washington.

Oh, if I had a job like this,
I'd surely be a mint of fun.
I'd wallow, like a chrysalis,
Wrapped in those folds of verdant bliss.
Each hundred-dollar bill I'd kiss,
And not a nickel would I shun,
And not a penny would I miss,
While washing money in Washington.

How About This?

It is perhaps not to be wondered at that any two St. Louisans should engage in a dispute, or even that they should draw revolvers on one another, but when one of these St. Louisans is a sausage manufacturer, and when he is fighting another man for the possession of a dog, it becomes a matter for comment and public inquiry. Why should this sausage manufacturer covet such an intense liking for an ordinary brindle building that he should shoot a fellow man in the hand because of an altercation concerning him? What is the dog to the sausage maker? Is it in the shape of links, or even in mass, as it were, but it is hardly within the range of human probabilities that he would ever seem to us like the same old dog.

Of course, this brindle pup is not worth to us, per se, since we have no interest whatever in his existence; but we do occasionally eat "country" sausage made in St. Louis, and we know that beef and pork are high. Furthermore, we know that dogs are cheap and that a good many of them can be rounded up on a dark night; and when sausage makers commence to shoot men for the sake of them—

But even at that, we are not impugning anybody's motives. We are simply stating the facts. The sausage maker, like it, own deduction and buy its own sausage.

Speaking of the self-denial to be practiced this week by the members of a certain St. Louis church, a contemporary publication says that this will be a week of "low living and high thinking." Wordsworth said, "Plain living and high thinking." How can a man do low living and high thinking at the same time, especially a church member? Besides, how could a church member be low-living?

Mrs. Muggins: Do your new neighbors do much borrowing?

Mrs. Higgins: They try to. I had a turkey hanging out of the back window, and they sent over yesterday to know if I would lend it to them until after Thanksgiving.

A TIMELY PAD FOR TURKEYS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I want to tell Mr. Wm. that my husband dries the dishes for me every evening. He comes home from work at 6:30 and the dinner is ready. After we have eaten, the children, a boy and a girl, aged 8 and 5, clear the table, while we look over the evening paper. Then we go into the kitchen and wash the dishes. My husband dries them, and the children carry them back again. Then we all go into the parlor and spend the evening sitting and reading. I am married 10 years and I can honestly say my husband has never left me alone one evening. Why? Because this way, I have time to entertain him. If other men would do this, as my husband does, they would not make away while they are in the kitchen washing dishes. Ask a man, "What does he do to be married for?" To help make a home pleasant, and if he doesn't who should?

HAPPY WIFE, MOTHER AND HOUSE-KEEPER.

A Wife's View.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Advice to Williams. Should you dry the dishes? Well, I should say not! Not unless you are easy. Your wife evidently knows how to push a good thing. She has a question should arrive in our household it would be squashed before it could ever appear before the eyes of the public. There are (of course) exceptions to any rule. If your wife is sick do all you can to spare her. But if you are a good man, you don't need any one to point out your duty. Now wife, brace up and make your husband glad he has you.

HAPPY WIFE.

MARKED IMPROVEMENT.

Mrs. Fort: Has your husband improved any since you married him?

Mrs. Shirki: Oh, yes. Before we were married he used to fasten his suspenders with a nail. Since our marriage I have taught him to sew on a button.—Yonkers Statesman.

TWO OF A KIND.

Geyer: Bald heads remind me of kind words.

Geyer: What's the answer?

Geyer: They can never dry.

TOO GAY FOR HIM.

"Wha, uncle, you're not going home already, are you?"

"Yes, I'm tired o' goin' round dressed up like a dude all the time. I want to get back to the farm, where I can wear my old clothes."

HIS PREFERENCE.

Landlady: What portion of the chicken would you like, Mr. Newcomer?

Mr. Newcomer: Oh, half of it will be ample, thank you.

THE SURVIVOR'S YARN.

"Let us have a somewhat different Thanksgiving dinner," said a farmer's wife; let's kill the fat sander."

An hour later the turkey, breathing free, beaked around the back of the house to observe the carcass of his rival pending from a nail."

"I now understand," he said slyly to himself, "the meaning of the phrase, 'Ex-sundered by the jaws and the green lungs'!"—St. Joseph News.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Woman's Search for "Shape."

Never in fashion's realm has the corset played so important a role as at present. It costs to be in "good form." Let the woman who has not tried it and doubts trot 'round the corset emporiums. Like patent medicines that would cure every ill, each make of corset is alleged to be the only rapid transit to correct form. Fortunes in dollars, patience and time are being squandered throughout the shopping districts in the effort to attain a shape which, if Mother Nature had given, every woman so afflicted would be in a surgical ward pleading with science to rid her of the monstrosity.

Only Parisians Know How.

Paris is the mecca of the woman who would have her hair mahoganyized as only the Parisians can do it. It costs an English woman $20 ($400) a year to keep the hair up to the standard. This sum includes a trip four times a year across the Channel. No one outside of Paris has the art that defies detection in this crowning detail.

Worn on the Wrist.

White satin fitted with sterling silver trimmings, and wrist chain, and embroidered in seed pearls, in a small running pattern rather resembling true lovers' knots, is the bridal combination that goes to make up one of the very handsomest of the "wrist bag" novelties.

Black moire, with gold clasps and ball link chain, is used for dressy afternoon wear to hold cards and handkerchiefs, as well as money.

Other bags are of the flowered pompadour silks, with a background of white, pale blue, old rose, and Nile green, with rosebuds and violets massed in bouquets scattered over the surface. The shape is still oblong, rather larger than the ones used in early spring, although many square ones are shown.

Tomatoes Stuffed With Okra and Baked.

Select round, firm, ripe tomatoes. Cut a slice from the stem and scoop out the seeds. Fill nearly full with okra, boiled, season with salt, pepper and butter and chopped fine and put a spoonful of cream sauce on top of each. Sprinkle with bread-crumbs and bake in a moderate oven until tomatoes are tender, but not broken. Serve with plain boiled rice.

New Picture Hangings.

There is a new way of hanging pictures this season which adds to the great effect of freshly-papered walls. It is used with the clasps which clutch the picture rail to avoid peeping the wall paper with nails and tacks.

The new way does away with the old method of making a triangle of wire from the picture to the rail and clasp. Two wires are used for each picture in place of the single long one. The wires are fastened at the outer and upper edge of the frames. The wires go straight up and are fastened to the rail instead of converging at a point midway above the picture frame.

To avoid a short end of wire use a piece extra long, which could go straight up over the corners and cross in a right angle turn, which should be invisible, and continue to the corresponding clasp which clutches the rail on the other side, and then to descend in an unbroken line to the other upper and outer edge of the picture frame. (The effect is very pleasing.)

WETFIELD FOR THE WASH NGTON-HASKELL GAME TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Conditions Will Favor the Local Eleven by Tending to Keep the Score Down—Gov. Dockery and Mayor Wells to Witness the Contest.

According to the present outlook, Redwater, Bobbitt Hall and other members of the Haskell aggregation of aborigine football players will have to get out the family canoe for their game with Washington University at League Park tomorrow afternoon.

After the dreary rains of last night, nothing but the steady appearance of the sun for several hours can put any of the local fields in condition for a fast game. As far as Washington is concerned, the grounds should operate to its advantage. The mechanics of the red men may get stuck in the mud and touchdowns consequently be fewer.

Today the work of the local eleven will be gone through with. The entire regular team with an opposing lineup of substitutes promised to be out for the first time this week, and White will endeavor to coach his men up on trick plays. The latter will be almost the sole reliance of the locals for scoring. The Indians have slipped some of the line eleven in the West from crossing their line, and hardly appears that Washington has much of a chance to win on straight football.

The Indians arrive today and will stop at the Southern Hotel. The contest here will come with the football men for the game which is still in the evening. Preparations to accommodate a big crowd are being made by the management. Nearly all the local players are expected to be present, among them are Mayor Wells, Gov. Dockery and President Francis of the World's Fair Commission. Places for tailors, automobile and vendors of other descriptions have also been made. Washington's rosters will be out in a body and will occupy the pavilion. The university band has been practicing up for the occasion, and will add to the noise. Still Snow and Jim Wear are announced as the probable officials.

High School vs. Smith Academy.

Both the High School and Smith Academy eleven are resting on their arms today. No practice beyond a few signals will be gone through with this afternoon, for the hard struggle of tomorrow morning.

Nothing has developed over night with either eleven to warrant a change of opinion in regard to the relative chances of the teams. High School is still the favorite at 5 to 4 on its record during the season. Smith's decided improvement in its later games, and its record of 10 wins and 1 loss, under such a long record of training are in its favor. Just why odds should be offered on either eleven is not apparent. The turn of the wheel of chance will probably decide the issue of the game.

To date nearly 400 seats have been sold, and at least half as many more will be sold according to the estimate of the management. The morning crowd in the history of St. Louis football, and will probably be more than either Washington or C. C. C. will draw in the afternoon, unless the day is fair.

The officials for the contest are still undecided, but Neil Snow and Hugh White, both members of the Haskell aggregation, will probably be chosen. The game will start promptly at 3 p. m.

St. Louis is working on trick plays in the hope of neutralizing the weight advantage which the college men will have in the afternoon. The Haskell aggregation will be the morning crowd in the history of St. Louis football, and will probably be more than either Washington or C. C. C. will draw in the afternoon, unless the day is fair.

The College of Physicians and Surgeons will send its eleven to Alton for a game with the Southern aggregation Thanksgiving afternoon.

Manuel Training School has a contest scheduled for Turkey day at Mexico, Mo., against the Mexico Military Academy.

MARION-SIMS GAME.

Marion-Sims' football team plays Illinois Normal School at Carbondale Thanksgiving day. The lineup will be:

Position	Player
Quarterback	Marion
Running Back	Sims
Fullback	...
Linebacker	...
Defensive Back	...

A decision is expected this morning as to whether McGovern will accept the offer.

"SURE-THING" TURF CONCERN "BLEW UP"

St. Louis Man Goes East to Prosecute Company That Offered 10 Per Cent.

Frank R. Price, the alleged manager of the National Fiscal Co., a racehorse "sure thing" concern, is under arrest in New York to answer to the charge of using the United States mails for fraudulent purposes, and a number of St. Louisans are vitally interested in the disposal of the man.

Leonard Hesser of 2315 Pennsylvania avenue will leave today for New York to present evidence against Price, he having been alleged to accept the St. Louis agency for the bookmaking outfit, and is out an interest of cash, office rent and a number of friends he induced to enter into the scheme.

CAUGHT BY AN "AD."

Hesser saw Price's advertisement offering a dividend of 10 per cent a week on investments and he placed some money with him. He received his dividend the first week, and was then induced to place more office here on the promise that he would receive 10 per cent on all the money he could get from other investors, besides the dividend on his own.

DIVIDENDS FAILED.

His clients failed to get their income regularly after the first week, and Hesser failed to realize on his investment, so he wrote the postoffice authorities of New York and was informed yesterday by the chief of detectives of that city that Price was arrested.

Hesser will represent the customers he has in addition to his own interests, and will endeavor to get back some of the money he collected. Among those who are alleged to have suffered at Price's scheme, are: Fred Schmeckmeier, 2115 Nebraska avenue; Mrs. Mary E. Meyer, 2115 Marion street; W. J. Meyer, 2115 Marion street; John Kraus, 244 De Kalb street; John Stanley, 2115 Cherokee street; Mrs. Foster, 2115 Cherokee street; John Bendel, 2115 Cherokee street; Mrs. Octavia Hesser, 2115 Pennsylvania avenue; W. F. Baker, San Francisco.

German Commissioner Visits Schools.
—Dr. Theodore Lewald, German imperial commissioner to the West, visited the Central High School, the Eugene Field School and other branches of the public school system. He was also accompanied by John Schroeder, president of the board of education; Superintendent P. Louis Boldan and Dr. F. C. Kiehl, imperial German consul.

SENT FREE TO MEN

A Most Remarkable Remedy That Quickly Restores Lost Vigor to Men.

A Free Trial Package Sent by Mail to All Who Write.

Free trial package of a most remarkable remedy is being mailed to all who will write the State Medical Institute. They cured so many men who had battled for years against the physical and mental effects of lost manhood, that the institute decided to distribute free trial packages to all who write. It is a home treatment, and all men who suffer with any form of sexual weakness, resulting from youthful folly, overindulgence in strength and energy, weak nerves, or emaciation of parts can now cure themselves at home.

The remedy has a peculiar grateful effect of warmth and seems to act direct to the desired point, giving strength and development where it is needed. It cures all the ills and troubles that come from years of misuse of the sexual functions and has been an absolute success in all cases. It is sent to the State Medical Institute, 1213 Eleventh Building, Ft. Wayne, Ind., stating that you desire one of their free trial packages, and will be sent one promptly. The institute is desirous of reaching that great mass of men who are suffering from sexual weakness, and the free sample will enable them to test the remedy for themselves. When the proper remedies are employed, the man will be able to lead a normal life, and his wife will be able to lead a normal life. The free trial package is sent to all who write, and is sent to all who write.

BOULEVARDS FOR THEIRS HEREFTER

St. Louis Automobilists Enjoying Spins on Asphalt Streets.

Dispatches to the Post-Dispatch from Chicago say that H. S. Turner, Jr., R. B. Whitman and A. C. Webb, the three St. Louis automobilists who arrived in the Lake City Monday evening, are willing to admit that there are things far more pleasant than an automobile journey.

They are enjoying spins on Chicago asphalt streets, and say it is boulevards for them hereafter, and not country roads. They were tired, hungry, a seep and foot-sore when they reached the Auditorium Annex. They had existed upon one meal a day, had averaged five hours' sleep a night and had reached the city with the hope that they would find a more pleasant mode of travel than the automobile.

They had words of condemnation only for the farmers of Illinois, for the fillers of the soil and the owners of the roads. They had heard that the roads were good, but they found them to be a mass of holes and bumps. They had heard that the roads were good, but they found them to be a mass of holes and bumps.

ST. LOUIS TO BE COURSEING CENTER

Lavin's Famous "Lily Doe" Sold to Chicago for $500.

St. Louis greyhounds are beginning to be in demand in the West. Good judges of coursing declare that St. Louis is destined to be the center of this popular sport in the United States. It is the only city in the middle west that gives a prolonged meet.

Col. Joseph M. Crennan of Chicago, than whom there is no better judge of a greyhound in the West, has purchased from J. J. Lavin the fast dog Lily Doe, by John Royce, and has

A STRONG DAY IN ALL GRAIN

ADVANCES IN PRICES AND A CLOSE AT ABOUT THE TOP.

CORN PRICES GAINED MOST

The Principal Long Had the Bears Working for Him—Building Up a Boom in Wheat.

Mr. Thomas A. Cleage, the December corn long, had his day again today, as also the pleasure of seeing quite a number of shorts on the run and glad to say he or more advance to get out. Although the prediction was for colder and clearing weather, the gloomy sky that overhung the Exchange building was not such as to encourage people who were short. The cash situation declared itself strongly in favor of the corn bull, also, the export demand being especially strenuous, and it was notable that the people who have been selling against cash purchases were very shy in such operations. Taken all in all, the market was just the kind that will permit Mr. Cleage to enjoy his turkey tomorrow with a thankful heart and easy mind. While the bears did the bulk of the corn the bulls themselves boosted wheat. They had a cold wave in prospect, with Hessian fly, and sprouted wheat on the side, rains in Argentina that might mean a wet harvest and other items of a character calculated to enthrall traders who were slow to be enthralled. A strong effort is being made to build up a bull boom, and the outsiders are badly needed to help it along.

WHEAT—Stronger cables, prospects for a fall in the temperature and perhaps a real cold wave, talk of Hessian fly, too luxuriant growth of the plant and even of jointing and stronger markets in view everywhere led to a pretty sharp demand at the opening that boosted the price 1/4¢. Liverpool had advanced 1/4¢, which in part was due to the steadiness yesterday in America. Broomfield cables and the weather map presented conditions that pointed to clearing and colder. There was not, however, any large volume to the buying, indicating a scarcity both of shorts and outside orders, and trading was extremely light, as sellers were few and shy, even the few bears left on earth fearing the weather conditions. Most trading was concentrated in May, but a much stronger demand noted for December. Receipts were good, but not as large as they have been at St. Louis, 22,800 bu. was in, against 25,800 bu. one year ago, and at 3¢ 1/2, against 3¢ 1/4, 74 cars, against 87 last year.

Dec. did not sell until 3¢ 1/2 was bid, which was 1/4¢ advance. May opened at 78¢ and sold up to 79¢ 3/4, back to 78¢. Another bull influence came along in the shape of a cable announcing too much rain in the Argentine, this exciting apprehension of a wet harvest that might have a bullish effect in European markets. The news from the Northwest on the weather, as snow falling there, and the movement so far favored the buying interest also. Already inclined that way the local crowd bought freely, before 12 o'clock paying 74¢ for May. Closing cables showed Liverpool 1/4¢ higher for the day, Paris 1/4¢ higher for wheat and 1/4¢ for flour and Antwerp 1/4¢ higher for wheat. Primary receipts were 1,772,000 bu. against 1,774,000 bu. one year ago, and shipments 600,000 bu. against 244,000 bu. last year. Clearances in flour and wheat from seven ports were 68,000 bu. against 72,000 bu. one year ago, and for week 2,211,000 bu. against 2,292,000 bu. last week and 2,758,000 bu. one year ago. The clearances for present week and one year ago are one day short.

The market was firm during balance of the day, but trading quieted down and was much lighter. At close May had sellers 1/4¢ above the day before. Sales of that month were at 74¢ 1/2 to 74¢ 3/4, closing at 74¢, selling at 74¢ 1/2 to 74¢ 3/4, and 74¢ 1/2 to 74¢ 3/4. December sold at 88¢ to 88 1/2¢, and later asked at close. Late cables report Berlin 1/4¢ higher and Budapest 1/4¢ lower.

Cash Market—Received, 14 sacks and 32 cars local and 11 cars through. Strong. Clearings smaller and choice very scarce. Millers and shippers bought sparingly on account of this, but all good grades met ready sales. By sample delivered: No. 2 at 70¢ 1/2 to 70¢ 3/4, and 70¢ 1/2 to 70¢ 3/4, east side; No. 4 at 68¢ to 68 1/2¢, and 68¢ to 68 1/2¢, west, and rejected at 58¢ to 60¢; No. 2 hard at 66¢ 1/2 to 67¢, and 66¢ 1/2 to 67¢, No. 3 hard at 65¢ 1/2 to 66¢, and 65¢ 1/2 to 66¢, No. 4 hard at 64¢ 1/2 to 65¢, and 64¢ 1/2 to 65¢, rejected at 58¢.

CORN—Although the conditions favored a return to more settled weather and perhaps cold enough to freeze, yet the rains at this point have sellers off and created enough demand to advance prices 1/4¢, but December was extremely dull and December was not sold until 3¢ 1/2 was bid, which was 1/4¢ advance. May opened at 78¢ and sold up to 79¢ 3/4, back to 78¢.

Another bull influence came along in the shape of a cable announcing too much rain in the Argentine, this exciting apprehension of a wet harvest that might have a bullish effect in European markets. The clearances for present week and one year ago are one day short.

strength displayed in all markets and the buying up of all the surplus elevator inventory by Cleage having impressed them strongly that he felt satisfied his deal was in good shape and he would be easily able to take care of all the cash delivered him. Quite an urgent demand developed at 41¢ 1/4 bid for Dec. before noon, May selling at 39¢.

Primary receipts were 534,000 bu. against 531,000 bu. one year ago, and shipments 281,000 bu. against 418,000 last year. The urgent demand that came up for cash at 41¢ 1/4, all the offerings being cleaned up, the No. 2 selling mainly to go to elevator and selling at 41¢ 1/4. It was notable that the No. 2 yellow sold at 41¢ and No. 3 yellow at 40¢ 1/2, and No. 4 yellow at 40¢, and No. 5 yellow at 39¢ 1/2, and No. 6 yellow at 39¢, and No. 7 yellow at 38¢ 1/2, and No. 8 yellow at 38¢, and No. 9 yellow at 37¢ 1/2, and No. 10 yellow at 37¢, and No. 11 yellow at 36¢ 1/2, and No. 12 yellow at 36¢, and No. 13 yellow at 35¢ 1/2, and No. 14 yellow at 35¢, and No. 15 yellow at 34¢ 1/2, and No. 16 yellow at 34¢, and No. 17 yellow at 33¢ 1/2, and No. 18 yellow at 33¢, and No. 19 yellow at 32¢ 1/2, and No. 20 yellow at 32¢, and No. 21 yellow at 31¢ 1/2, and No. 22 yellow at 31¢, and No. 23 yellow at 30¢ 1/2, and No. 24 yellow at 30¢, and No. 25 yellow at 29¢ 1/2, and No. 26 yellow at 29¢, and No. 27 yellow at 28¢ 1/2, and No. 28 yellow at 28¢, and No. 29 yellow at 27¢ 1/2, and No. 30 yellow at 27¢, and No. 31 yellow at 26¢ 1/2, and No. 32 yellow at 26¢, and No. 33 yellow at 25¢ 1/2, and No. 34 yellow at 25¢, and No. 35 yellow at 24¢ 1/2, and No. 36 yellow at 24¢, and No. 37 yellow at 23¢ 1/2, and No. 38 yellow at 23¢, and No. 39 yellow at 22¢ 1/2, and No. 40 yellow at 22¢, and No. 41 yellow at 21¢ 1/2, and No. 42 yellow at 21¢, and No. 43 yellow at 20¢ 1/2, and No. 44 yellow at 20¢, and No. 45 yellow at 19¢ 1/2, and No. 46 yellow at 19¢, and No. 47 yellow at 18¢ 1/2, and No. 48 yellow at 18¢, and No. 49 yellow at 17¢ 1/2, and No. 50 yellow at 17¢, and No. 51 yellow at 16¢ 1/2, and No. 52 yellow at 16¢, and No. 53 yellow at 15¢ 1/2, and No. 54 yellow at 15¢, and No. 55 yellow at 14¢ 1/2, and No. 56 yellow at 14¢, and No. 57 yellow at 13¢ 1/2, and No. 58 yellow at 13¢, and No. 59 yellow at 12¢ 1/2, and No. 60 yellow at 12¢, and No. 61 yellow at 11¢ 1/2, and No. 62 yellow at 11¢, and No. 63 yellow at 10¢ 1/2, and No. 64 yellow at 10¢, and No. 65 yellow at 9¢ 1/2, and No. 66 yellow at 9¢, and No. 67 yellow at 8¢ 1/2, and No. 68 yellow at 8¢, and No. 69 yellow at 7¢ 1/2, and No. 70 yellow at 7¢, and No. 71 yellow at 6¢ 1/2, and No. 72 yellow at 6¢, and No. 73 yellow at 5¢ 1/2, and No. 74 yellow at 5¢, and No. 75 yellow at 4¢ 1/2, and No. 76 yellow at 4¢, and No. 77 yellow at 3¢ 1/2, and No. 78 yellow at 3¢, and No. 79 yellow at 2¢ 1/2, and No. 80 yellow at 2¢, and No. 81 yellow at 1¢ 1/2, and No. 82 yellow at 1¢, and No. 83 yellow at 1/2¢, and No. 84 yellow at 1/4¢, and No. 85 yellow at 1/8¢, and No. 86 yellow at 1/16¢, and No. 87 yellow at 1/32¢, and No. 88 yellow at 1/64¢, and No. 89 yellow at 1/128¢, and No. 90 yellow at 1/256¢, and No. 91 yellow at 1/512¢, and No. 92 yellow at 1/1024¢, and No. 93 yellow at 1/2048¢, and No. 94 yellow at 1/4096¢, and No. 95 yellow at 1/8192¢, and No. 96 yellow at 1/16384¢, and No. 97 yellow at 1/32768¢, and No. 98 yellow at 1/65536¢, and No. 99 yellow at 1/131072¢, and No. 100 yellow at 1/262144¢.

EMPEROR FOLLOWS THE HEARSE

Impressive Scene at the Funeral of Herr Krupp at the Town of Essen.

ESSEN, Prussia, Nov. 26.—The remains of Herr Krupp were buried today. The obsequies were impressive. Emperor William followed the hearse on foot from the old home of the grandfather of the deceased to the cemetery. Practically the entire population of Essen attended the funeral.

ST. LOUIS STUDENT ARRESTED.

W. R. Orthwein Accused of Complicity in the Yale Students' Riot.

Dispatches from New Haven, Conn., state that William R. Orthwein of St. Louis, a Yale senior, was arrested for alleged complicity in the students' riot of last Thursday night, when a speculator in football tickets was forcibly separated from his stock.

Mr. Orthwein says that he was merely an onlooker at the disturbance. He is one of five students who have been apprehended by the New Haven police since the trouble occurred.

The charge against the quintet is disturbing the peace. All are under bond.

DID COUPLE PLAN TO DIE TOGETHER?

Bride and Bridegroom Found With Throats Cut.

WEDDED ONLY FIVE DAYS

SHE IS DEAD, BUT HE MAY RECOVER.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. TEXARKANA, Tex., Nov. 26.—Lee Weigel and his bride of five days were found in their rooms at the Metropolitan Hotel with their throats cut late Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Weigel was dead. Weigel was still alive, though very weak. Near him lay the razor with which the murderous work had been done. He was removed to a hospital and may recover.

He refused to talk of the tragedy, the motive for which is a mystery to the police.

Weigel lives in Texarkana. Before her marriage, Mrs. Weigel was Miss Marie Quinn of Anniston, Ala. They had been at the Metropolitan Hotel since Sunday night.

There was no quarrel that anyone about the hotel heard, and no unusual sounds emanated from the room to indicate a quarrel. Indeed, none of the furnishings of the room had been disturbed in the least, showing undoubtedly that there had been no struggle. If there had been an outcry of any kind in all likelihood it would have been heard.

It must have been, as the police think, that the couple had just agreed to die together.

Physicians say the tragedy took place some time during the night. It would have been impossible for Weigel to have bled so much from his wounds and for the woman's body to have become so stiff in less than several hours.

Another story, and one which is probably true, as it is vouched for by parties in position to know, although they refuse to give details, is that the couple were married two or three years ago, but soon after quarreled and separated in Alabama; that some months ago they began a correspondence and that the story last Friday's marriage was but a reconciliation between them. One theory, based on this story, is that the quarrel was renewed in their room last night.

Now develops that Weigel rang for a helioboy and sent him out and got both morphine and chloroform early last night. It is believed she took drugs, for her features were calm and peaceful, showing no trace of terror.

WELTNER LOSES LIBEL SUIT

Magnetic Healer's Proceeding Against Rev. Bishop Not Sustained by Supreme Court.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 26.—Prof. B. A. Weltner, a magnetic healer at New York, lost his suit for libel against Rev. C. M. Bishop in the Supreme Court this morning. He charged Bishop with having caused to be published an article detrimental to Weltner's business.

In the lower court Prof. Weltner secured judgment for $100 against Rev. Bishop and the preacher appealed to the Supreme Court, where the judgment of the lower court was reversed in an opinion by Judge Tallant.

"Courts are not such slaves to the forms of procedure as to surrender their own intelligence to the untrained witness testifying to an impossibility. They are not required to give credence to a statement that would fairly, well-known laws of nature, though a cloud of witnesses swear to it."

"We recognize that in the realm of science much is yet undiscovered and especially in the science relating to diseases of the human system and their treatment. Different schools of medicine contend with each other on vital questions, and, as long as the contest continues with reason, it cannot be discussed on that basis, there is nothing to be discussed. If a man comes into court claiming to possess supernatural powers and brings with him witnesses who swear he has done for them things which we know to be impossible, we are not required to believe such evidence."

"If there was anything in the plaintiff's (Weltner's) business which they call magnetic healing that entitled it to the protection of the law, and which was not perceptible to the untrained witness testifying to an impossibility, the burden was on them to show the rationale of it, and, failing to do so, the court should close its doors against them. The law of libel is not designed to shield one in the practice of an ill business. The business of the plaintiff (Weltner), as shown by his own evidence, is of such a character as that it is not entitled to protection under the law of libel."

A well-known retired merchant of this city, and one of the CRAWFORD STORE'S best customers, in conversing with Mr. Crawford the other day said, "There are only two stores in this city I will allow my wife to trade in—yours and so-and-so. Both of you are straight in your business dealings. I only go to the other store when you might happen to be out of an article, which is very seldom. In fact, I might go often to it than I do to the other store."

Both of you are straight in your business dealings. I only go to the other store when you might happen to be out of an article, which is very seldom. In fact, I might go often to it than I do to the other store."

Fifty other persons had over 600 coupons to their credit. The St. Louis house furnishing company announces that it will give the particulars for another contest in next Sunday's Post-Dispatch, in which there will be no blanks. The contest just closed was only started six weeks ago, and aroused interest throughout the city and suburbs.

Conductor Hurt in Fight.—Joseph Patton of 1506 North Spring avenue, conductor on the Spring avenue line, was injured yesterday in a fight with Thomas J. O'Brien of 612 Lincoln avenue. O'Brien was shot by a police officer at 1556 Wells avenue. The conductor ejected O'Brien from his car after a dispute about a fare. The fight followed.

BROCKMAN'S PLEA IS "NOT GUILTY"

Young Man on Trial for Killing His Sweetheart.

DOUBLE COMPACT OF SUICIDE

STATE'S THEORY IS THAT THE GIRL WAS MURDERED.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. HILLSBORO, Ill., Nov. 26.—Entering a plea of "not guilty" Frederick Brockman faces a jury who will try him for the murder of Gertrude Clifford on the 15th of last January.

The crime was committed while Brockman and Miss Clifford were buggy riding in the evening.

Two bullet wounds in the girl's head told the story of her death, while two wounds on Brockman's head showed that he attempted to kill himself, but failed, owing to the bullets glancing off the skull.

Brockman was revived and admitted that he killed the girl and then tried to kill himself.

Brockman Tall and of Fair Looks.

Brockman is a tall young fellow and would be handsome were it not for a certain mark on his forehead. He is dressed well and was something of a leader at the revels held by the young men in the saloons of the town. Soon he got the reputation of being the fastest young man in town.

While this enhanced his fascinations with certain young women it did not elevate him any in the estimation of Gertrude Clifford, whom he was most desirous of pleasing. While he had known her for several years, he had only discovered within the last few months how really beautiful and desirable she had grown. After courting her in the fashion of such communities for time, taking her to dances and Sunday buggy rides, and caring on her frequently, he proposed to her and was rejected.

This made Brockman more reckless than formerly.

He was in debt and his creditors were pushing him. He was drinking more than was good for him, and he got an idea into his head that the only cure for his heart, his morals and his financial straits, was to take the girl to death with him, as he could not take her in life.

He was in a saloon in Hillsboro at the end of the bar for quite half an hour writing. Some of his companions dropped in and asked him about it, asking him if he was writing to his "girl." He was surly and made no reply. When he had finished writing he took a drink and laughed mirthlessly, saying, "Good-by, my dear. I have realized the significance of this farwell."

This is what he wrote in a scrawling, untrained hand:

Kind Friends, Brother and Sisters—I am going to commit suicide tonight. I am in my best mind, but I have made up my mind to leave this world behind. So good-by to all. I see the way to be true to this. So good-by to all. All you young fellows, take my advice and don't go the way I have. I have done, but I have done, forgive me all. I owe so many people that I can't pay any; they are the cause of it. I know I have some friends, but they are few. They think I am a beat, but I may meet them all in the other world. I have told Gertrude what I am going to do and she says she must go, too. Bury me by the side of Fred. Will you mother?

FRED AND GERTIE.

This note was found in the buggy, next to the dead girl.

After the tragedy the horse made its way back to the livery barn in Hillsboro, and the buggy belonged, and the stablemen found Miss Clifford dead and Brockman unconscious. He was soon revived. The body of the girl was sent to her friends.

The defendant is 20 years old. Miss Clifford was a beautiful girl and very popular. Her friends do not believe that she entered into an agreement to kill herself. They will be that the girl first killed herself and then he shot himself.

The testimony given by the young lady's grandfather, William Laws of Coffey, gave a description of how Gertrude had come home from an evening on the day of the murder. She had cheered the home and had had sat down to read her lover, Fred Brockman, came, and she went with him to ride. He next saw her at the undertaking establishment.

WHERE DID THE TURKEY GO?

Prize Bird Vanished While Men Were Shaking Dice For It.

While a merry crowd in the saloon of John Scherere, on the Olive street road, was shaking dice for a Thanksgiving turkey, the prize disappeared. Jack Laingan, the winner of the contest, had spent nearly a round of drinks to celebrate his good fortune, and turned around to claim the tempting fowl, but found that it had disappeared.

Scherere, who had fed the turkey for several weeks to fatten it for the drawing, was as deeply chagrined as his customer. He said that he had suspicions as to the fate of the turkey, and would ask for warrants.
